Last Will and Testament
of
The College Senior Class

We, the College Senior Class, do make and declare this to be our last will and testament.

Item I

I, Sarah King, do will and extend a big Texas welcome to any and all who may be passing by or through the King Ranch, and urge them not to be frightened by the long-horned steers as we've pulled all their teeth.

Item II

I, Charlotte Lee Jones, leave my ability to sleep through college to Mat Townsend, and my ability to get thrown from a horse and be picked up by Mr. Nash to any lucky girl next year.

Item III

I, Dorothy Brush, will my literature book to Carol Klatt for next year so she can keep pace with Pace.

Item IV

I, Patty Long, do will all my wonderful times in sports and on trips to those incoming seniors, and hope they get as much enjoyment as I have had.

Item V

I, Jo Ann Keller, will my love for the beautiful, beautiful State of Texas to Barbara Hess.

Item VI

I, Patsy Borngasser, leave my ability to eat and not gain weight to Jane Ackerson and Xavia Bate.

Item VII

I, Jayne Reybold, leave my overnight term papers and numerous week ends to Jeannine Bidwell.

Item VIII

I, Nancy Perry, leave my gigantic appetite, fake diets, and other incidentals to Peter Winkelman.

Item IX

I, Jo Ann Yount, leave my farewells at the railroad station in hopes that someone will take over.

Item X

I, Mary Lou Miller, will my love for horses to Rita Bedford, a Texan who should always have that in her possession.

Item XI

I, Kathryn Butler, will my unsuccessful diets to Kathryn McFarland.

Item XII

I, Haydee Grillo, do will my punctuality in all appointments to the faculty, my love for music to Miss Marks, and my future success to my voice teacher, and my "snake hips" in dancing Latin-American music to the incoming class.

In Witness Whereof, We, the Senior Class, have hereunto subscribed our names and affixed our seal to this, our last will and testament, this 5th day of June, 1948.

The Class Prophecy

It was a foggy, rainy night as my cab wiggled through the traffic of downtown London on the way to the airport. The planes were going out in spite of the low ceiling, which was accompanied by my equally low spirits. Dreading a boring trip to Paris, I decided to settle down before we took off, only to be suddenly snapped from my depressed mood by none other than NANCY PERRY, an old fellow conspirator at Fairfax Hall. After five minutes of violent chatter, we started reminiscing. Perry was stopping over to put the latest link in her scheme that would practically revise tourist travel. Upon our arrival in Paris, we strolled down the Champs Elysees, and who should we run into but HAYDEE GRILLO, who is now the toast of Europe. We joined her for dinner at one of those fascinating and intimate little cafes where she told us of her thrilling experiences singing in the well-known cities of Europe. She also confided in us that she was now able to reach three octaves above high C.

We spent several weeks touring western Europe, and then we flew from Lisbon to Miami. Our first stop was the Hotel Flamingo where we had a good night's rest, in spite of talking in our sleep the entire night. The next day was provided with the usual Florida sunshine; so we took off right away for Miami Beach. Beneath a brightly colored umbrella we managed to catch a glimpse of CHARLOTTE LEE JONES stretched out under the Florida sun and finishing her book Forever Drifting. It wasn't long until she shocked us with her plans which were to definitely settle down and go to modeling school. We knew that that must have been a great relief to Mr. Powers!

Our next stop was Dallas, Texas. The moment we stepped off the plane we were surrounded by swarms of young children of all sizes and shapes, who literally pulled us toward three couples standing near the door of the airport. We realized suddenly that the shining rows of white teeth belonged to PATTY LONG, SARAH KING, and JOANNE KELLER, and a combination of their children—mixtures of Jim, Frank, and that marvelous football star we had heard so much about. The latter and Patty were tossing a pigskin back and forth as we talked. After seeing their houses and trying to distinguish which of the seventeen children belonged to which proud parents, we bade our "adieus" and raced for the plane as the motors began to warm up.

In Alabama we were held up in Mobile by a parade advertising a "cat show." Never having heard of such a thing, we decided to drop by and see just exactly what it was. Who should be the cause of the commotion but KATHRYN BUTLER and her "hubby." We were once again greeted warmly and saw an extremely successful show with everything from friendly panthers to fuzzy yellow kittens. And incidentally, Kathryn had each named after her old Annapolis "beaus."

Again in the sky, we traveled to various spots, making a forced landing in a field somewhere in the Blue Ridge Mountains. While the men repaired the slight damages, we took a short walk and came across an old, yet picturesque cabin. To our utter amazement, CHARLIE YOUNT answered our knock with a pen in one hand and several children under her arm who were modestly reciting poetry in unison to themselves and to the world in general. Charlie showed us her many published works, and the interior of the cabin revealed the success she had achieved.

Our next stop was Virginia Beach, where we were advised by the president of the Chamber of Commerce himself, to see the show stables of a famed young lady. We might have guessed who it would be. We were greeted by MARY LOU MILLER, looking stunning as ever, on a beautiful horse with several ponies carrying small likenesses of Mary Lou, and also by a tall gent astride another horse. Mary Lou was, to say the least, in seventh heaven. We had dinner with her and her clan that evening, and afterwards listened to PATSY BORNGASSER on the radio. She was broadcasting from Russia about the christening of Americana, the new Russian pleasure-liner. Patsy was living there, after giving up her reporter job with the Chicago Times.

New York loomed before our eyes in all its glory several days later, and the first thing we did was to burst, unannounced, into the private office of JAYNE REYBOLD. She did not hear us enter and continued her confusing line of chatter on both her phones. We gathered that she was talking to a new client on one and on the other—well, probably to one of her latest swains. The minute she saw us in her just too clever mirrored wall paper, she dropped both phones and embraced us. We had lunch at the Stork, or rather attempted to eat amidst the mad chatter battered to and fro. Jayne had brought us there especially to surprise us, for DOTTY BRUSH was going to model her latest clothes designs there. When she appeared we could see why she had made such a name for herself. We signaled to her and she stopped at our table to chat for a while, but not for long—the "press" was at her heels!

When we had completed our tour, I returned to London after saying good-bye to Perry, who headed back to Waynesboro for the annual visit with her husband and children.

Who knows what more success awaits these mothers and play girls of 1958? Ah, but we shall find that out at our class reunion in 1968 when the General Wayne has been enlarged two-fold in order to accommodate the future little Fairfaxers!

Last Will and Testament of High School Senior Class

We, the Senior Class of 1948 of Fairfax Hall, Waynesboro, Virginia, seeming unstable in thoughts and actions, hereby abolish all formerly established documents and do decree and publish this our last will and testament.

Article I

Section I: To Fairfax Hall, our beloved Alma Mater, we bequeath our unceasing devotion; and we hope that the Seniors in years to come will have as many good times and parties as we have had.

Section II: To Mrs. Beryl Wisman, our sponsor, to whom we owe everlasting gratitude, we bequeath our love and the sincere wish that she will have the best always.

Section III: To Mr. Gates, our friend and counselor, we bequeath our deepest appreciation for his guidance and understanding.

Section IV: To the Senior Class of 1949, we bequeath our privilege of going to the movies on Friday night, and hope that they enjoy it.

Article II

Section I: To all those who have any inclination to smoke, we bequeath a new, large, and properly ventilated smoker.

Section II: To those who indulge in that which is known as "dating," we bequeath a new student lounge with curtains which are not apt to fall down at inopportune moments.

Article III

I, Pat Ashenbrenner, do hereby will and bequeath my glorious singing in the shower, which wakes up the whole hall early in the morning, to Rene Cranfill who may some day reach my standards.

I, Patsy Black, do hereby will and bequeath my love of Waynesboro to Jackie Dobson.

I, Mary Charles Blades, do hereby will and bequeath to Nancy Brown my success in bumming cigarettes.

I, Fran Chamberlin, do hereby will and bequeath to Ivy Taylor my pet spider, "Fuzzy," hoping that next year there will be other girls like Jayne and Helene to scare.

I, Mary Clarke, do hereby will and bequeath to Jeanne Marie Jones the tradition of giving sweaters to S. M. A. cadets.

I, Helene DeVos, do hereby will and bequeath my love for Princeton to Mac McCune.

I, Ronnie DiCarlo, do hereby will and bequeath the traditional hat and my extraordinary French grades to Mac McCune.

I, Ita Frost, do hereby will and bequeath the first chance at the first shower to Dorothy Pearson.

I, Corky Gates, do hereby will and bequeath my fondness for lima beans to Lyn Feairheller.

I, Betty Jean Gouldman, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to knit socks to Mary Kulzer.

I, Martha Hindle, do hereby will and bequeath the results and wonderful times on certain week ends at Natural Bridge to Mary Shep Hammons—Viva Jim!

I, Marnie Howard, do hereby will and bequeath my amazing knowledge of chemistry to Dot Pearson.

Last Will and Testament of High School Senior Class

I, Lillian Johnson, do hereby will and bequeath my capacity for repressing laughter during study hours to Lois Casstevens.

I, Jane Kiely, do hereby will and bequeath my ever-cheerful, smiling face at the breakfast table to my roommate, Jeanne Jones.

I, Barbara Kiesewetter, do hereby will and bequeath my faithfulness in writing to the same boy every night to Clara Cole.

I, Joan Killian, do hereby will and bequeath my English accent to Ivy Taylor.

I, Louisa Landon, do will and bequeath my cousin, Wyatt Shorter, to the most bashful junior, Lynn McCune, in hopes that she will look after him in my absence.

I, Jayne Leavitt, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to excel in athletics to Alice Cooling.

I, Carol Long, do hereby will and bequeath my nickname, "graceful Carol," to Nancy Brown.

I, Eleanor McCleary, do hereby will and bequeath my licorice fund to my sister, Janet, with the hope that she will bring home right tolerable profits.

I, Jean Martin, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get up at six in the morning to Clara Cole.

I, Lucy Mead, do hereby will and bequeath my dainty appetite to any underclassman who needs to gain weight.

I, Peggy Neill, do hereby will and bequeath my continual position on the campus list to Honey Taylor with hopes that she can maintain the brilliant record.

I, Elaine Paul, do hereby will and bequeath my Thursday braids to Linda Lazzell.

I, Natalie Peckham, do hereby will and bequeath to whoever needs them my reducing exercises, and I hope she will get more from them than splinters.

I, Laura Lee Prince, do hereby will and bequeath my wonderful week ends spent at Fairfax with "him" to Esther Brown.

I, Pat Purdy, do hereby will and bequeath my sun lamp to Dorothy Pearson with the hope that it will remind her of sunny Cuba.

I, Barbara Reeves, do hereby will and bequeath my southern accent and undying rebel fight to Alice Cooling.

I, Jean Rosenberg, do hereby will and bequeath part of my devilishness to Mary Frances Bennett and the rest to my beloved roommate, Anne Sancken.

I, Ann Smith, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep the neatest room in school to Betsy Madison.

I, Barbara Swezey, do hereby will and bequeath my charming habit of cracking of gum to June Pialorsi and Mary Kulzer.

I, Pat Thomas, do hereby will and bequeath my black list to Dorothy Pearson and hope that she will not be too hard on her victims.

I, Betty Nell Young, do hereby will and bequeath my love of Jacksonville, Florida, to Ivy Taylor.

Given under my hand and seal at Waynesboro, Virginia, this 5th day of June.

Jane Ann Kiely, Executor,
Class of 1948.

High School Senior Class Prophecy-1948

Madame Lazonga, the crystal-gazer, without any debate
Predicted the following for the Senior Class of '48.
She says that twenty years from now
There'll be some changes and this is how.
Perhaps you will not all agree
But this is the way it seems to be.

Carol Long has numerous cases
Of filling teeth and tightening braces.
Experimenting faithfully is Patsy Black,
The poor little atom has had an attack.
Princeton's many sports, with great finesse,
Are announced by Jayne Leavitt for C. B. S.
A dye, for hair of every shade,
Made by Joan Killian is being displayed.
In Ocean City, spending her life,
Is Betty Jean Gouldman, the beach-comber's wife.
The needlepoint she started years ago—
Barbara Kiesewetter is now on the last row.
Taking pictures with the greatest of zeal
We find the photographer, our friend Peggy Neill.
Teaching diction in New York State
We find Ann Smith whose fame is great.
From the strain of her students her nerves are unstrung,
This teacher of Spanish is Betty Nell Young.
An expert seamstress is Helene DeVos,
And much of the credit to Fairfax should go.
Barbara Swezey's family forms a basketball team,
With Dick as their coach they are ever supreme.
An active member of the Ku Klux Klan
Is Barbara Reeves of Dixie Land.
Pat Ashenbrenner exclaims, "No quitting,
Randy's socks I will finish knitting!"
Every night at a quarter past eight
Lucy Mead sings to another blind date.
Lillian Johnson is the greatest by far,
In all athletics she's a number one star.
As Marnie Howard rides upon Cardinal III
Pleas of "can I have a drag" are often heard.
Ronnie DiCarlo, with greatest of ease,
Is now translating from French to Chinese.
Pat Thomas and Teeny making elevated shoes,
Working together how can they lose?
Made Olympic champ for her skill with the skiis
Pat Purdy forgets her black and blue knees.
Natalie Peckham has a way to lose fat,
If you want to find out "come see me," says Nat.
A connoisseur of renown of swanky resorts
Fran Chamberlin is tasting foods of all sorts.
In Miami, Florida, as the mayor's wife
We find Corky Gates leading a happy life.
A ballet teacher, at Randolph-Macon
Martha Hindle finds every minute is taken.
With lasso in hand and a gleam in her eye
Jean Martin still ropes every man that goes by.
In the fair city of Rochester dwells Elaine Paul,
As a model she is beautiful, and admired by all.
A portrait painter of Fishburne boys
Brings Louisa Landon numerous joys.
Ita Frost has taken up smoking—
We're sorry to say she still is choking.
Eleanor McCleary "like a beacon shining bright,"
Succeeds in keeping old U. T. going right.
Women's rights are flourishing highly—
Cornell's president is now Jane Kiely.
In Switzerland Mary Clarke is climbing the Alps
To heights that would tingle daring men's scalps.
In Elizabeth City leading the band
Is Mary Charles Blades, the best in the land.
Laura Lee Prince is now happily married
Although Sam and her children keep her quite harried.

As a Fairfax class our fame will not die;
Like a constellation we will meet in the sky.

The High School Freshmen

The Laurel Chain Song

Winding slowly o'er the campus
As we bear our laurel chain,
O'er the dear old Fairfax campus,
As we pledge our love again.

REFRAIN

Dear old Fairfax, dear old Fairfax,
How our hearts beat high with pride!
Ever shall we stand together,
Fairfax daughters side by side.

'Tis a symbol of our faith,
This laurel chain we bear,
And the trust we have in Fairfax:
Oh, our hearts will e'er be here.

As the day draws nigh for parting
And we list to another call,
In our hearts will live the echo,
"Alma Mater, Fairfax Hall."

Seniors:

We, the Senior Class of Fairfax,
Pass to you this chain of green
As a token of our love
And the happy days we've seen.

Juniors:

We accept with joyful hearts
The challenge that you give,
And promise we will keep it;
In our hearts 'twill ever live.

Alma Mater

I

Pledge we now our loyal friendship,
Pledge it, one and all,
To the school we love so dearly;
Hail to Fairfax Hall!

CHORUS

Loudly praise our Alma Mater,
Best school in the land.
Through the years we're friends forever,
Loyally we stand.

II

Memories shall always linger
'Round our school so dear.
May the friendships formed at Fairfax
Live throughout the years.

Purpose

THE Young Women's Christian Association helps to maintain the Christian atmosphere of the school. Through its weekly Sunday evening vesper services, its parties for new girls in the fall, and its other social functions throughout the year, the Y. W. C. A. tries to combine spiritual inspiration with actual practice of the principles of Jesus.

The Art Club

Martin, Hassell, McNaught, Goodman, Keller, Bidwell

THE Art Club of this year has devoted its activities to the Exhibitions of Paintings and Graphic Arts which have been sent to us from the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts at Richmond.

Discussions have been led by the Art History class which did the research work on the artists who have been represented.

The list of Exhibitions has been as follows: Print and Drawings by Virginia Artists; Elements of Design; Madonnas from 13th Century to a modern version of Mother and Child; the French Painters of the 19th Century; Italian Masters from 14th through the 17th Centuries; Paintings, Drawings, and Prints of the 20th Century artists.

These Exhibitions, plus the kodachrome slides used in the Art History classes, have greatly enriched the Art program.

The Athletic Association

Winkelman, Perry, Miss Smith, Ashenbrenner

THE Athletic Association is an organization which helps Fairfax girls keep physically fit and maintains good sportsmanship in every way throughout the school life.

In order to become a member of the Athletic Association one must acquire twenty-five extra-curricular points acquired by participating in sports outside of those required.

The school is divided into two teams, "Orange" and "Black," which represent the school's colors. The purpose is to promote sports activities among the students and to help girls gain Athletic Association points.

The Association sponsors activities such as hockey, basketball, baseball, tennis, bowling, riding, and many others. Hockey and basketball teams participate in games with many schools and the trips are fun and enjoyed by all.
